

Social Determinants That Drive Well-Being Outcomes Panel Discussion

Facilitator: Wanda Holloway, L.C.S.W is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. She has an extensive career in child welfare where she retired after serving as the Associate Deputy Director of the Child Abuse and Neglect Hotline for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (IDCFS). Her career at IDCFS included serving as the Director of Training, Supervisor, Adoption Specialist, Caseworker and Investigator. Wanda has served as Adjunct Professor in the School of Social Work at Illinois State University. She is currently serving as Youth Pastor at Mount Zion Christian Church and also works for a local insurance company.

Doris M. Houston, Ph.D. Is the Assistant to the President for Diversity and Inclusion at Illinois State University, and she holds a joint appointment as Associate Professor of Social Work and Director of the Center for Child Welfare and Adoption Studies. Dr. Houston received her masters and doctorate in Human Development and Family Studies from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign where she was the first African American to receive a doctorate from this program. She has more than 30 years of experience as a human service and child welfare practitioner, educator, administrator, and social justice advocate. While originally from Chicago, Doris has resided in central Illinois since 1992 and has called Bloomington-Normal her home since 2018. Doris is a proud member of the Central Illinois Chapter of the Links, Inc., the McLean County NAACP, and the Women to Women Giving Circle of the Illinois Prairie Community Foundation.

Dakesa Piña, Ph.D. serves as the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Officer in the College of Education at Illinois State University. She is a licensed marriage and family therapist with a private practice specializing in work with couples and families, as well as spiritual trauma. She completed her doctorate in Marriage and Family Therapy at Texas Tech University, her master's degree at Indiana State University, and her bachelor's degree at Bowling Green State University. Dakesa also enjoys providing trainings on a variety of different topics including healthy relationships, diversity, equity and inclusion, and the impact of micro aggressions. Dakesa is very active in the Bloomington/Normal community serving as a member of Jack and Jill of America, Inc. and Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. When not working or serving, Dakesa spends quality time with her husband and two children.